

TOWN OF DICKINSON'S OFFICIALS – 1891 TO PRESENT (2021)

Dickinson is the county's youngest town with its first board meeting held in January of 1891. Since this time there have been 16 supervisors. The average tenure of our supervisors has been five years. There are two supervisors who greatly exceeded this average. Edwin M. Jones served into his 32nd year. Current supervisor, Michael Marinaccio, is serving his 19th year with an additional four years as a councilman.

The office of Town Clerk has seen 12 people serve the Town. M. Ruth DeSilva served 24 years in this capacity. The average length of service for a town clerk has been nine years.

The office of Councilman/Councilwoman is relatively new. The Town transitioned from Justices of the Peace to Councilman/Councilwoman beginning in 1949 as voting members of the Town's board. Joseph Burczak was the first elected person to hold the office of Councilman. Current board member, Danny Morabito, is the longest tenured councilman with 27 years and counting. Of the justices, there have been 32 judges having an average tenure of just over 11 years. Judges Samuel H. Decker and Annette Slocum both served the town for 34 years.
